Introduction

Welcome to Blaenau Gwent's Annual Summary Report 2022/23 which gives an overview of work undertaken by each Summary Committee. This year has seen significant changes to Elected Members following the local elections in May 2022 and a new committee structure agreed at the Annual General Meeting of the Council in May 2022.

Both returning and newly elected Members have exercised very challenged and influenced the Council's decision making process and added value to a wide range of activity in order to deliver effective outcomes for the people of Blaenau Gwent, some of this work is highlighted in the following sections of this report.

Following changes to the democratic structure in 2022, Blaenau Gwent now has four summary committees that collectively support the work of the Cabinet and Council, and the new structure continues to allow non-Cabinet members to influence how local and strategic policy can work more effectively for the people they serve and effectively challenge Cabinet on the decisions it makes.

The Council's Summary Functions are made up of non-Cabinet Members. These non-Cabinet Members are appointed to sit on the Summary Committees to support the work of the Cabinet and the Council as a whole.

The Committees have no decision making powers, however, they act as a check and balance on the powers exercised and decisions taken by the Cabinet.

Introduction (continued)

The Scrutiny Committee allows non-Cabinet Members to have a greater say in Council matters by:

Assisting the Cabinet in the development of policy;

Monitoring performance of the Council and its partners;

Examining the impact and implementation of Cabinet decisions and policies;

Holding the Leader, Cabinet and Corporate Leadership Team to account;

Listening to the views of the public and making sure the public voice is heard; and Scrutinising external organisations who provide services to our residents.

Scrutiny is most effective when it is focused on a limited number of in-depth topics and priorities. When considering agenda items, the Scrutiny Committee should have regard to the likely value and impact gained for any report or review. This will need to be carefully balanced against:

Changes to the Democratic Structure

During 2021/22 we undertook a comprehensive desktop research exercise to consider where the democratic function of the Council could be strengthened and modernised. The research has included:

- Evaluate comments received from both councillors and members
- Data analysis
- Network meetings and discussions
- Chair and Vice Chair meetings
- Consideration of processes in other areas, and
- Comparative data analysis

Owing to changes made by the Boundary Commission for Wales, Blaenau Gwent reduced from 16 to 14 Wards and the number of Elected Members reducing from 42 to 33. Following the reduction and the research a number of findings and proposals were considered and agreed by Council for implementation during 2022/23 municipal year.

As part of the changes to the democratic structure, Blaenau Gwent now has four scrutiny committees that collectively support the work of the Cabinet and Council.

Further changes agreed in 2022 were:

- The number of Elected Members sitting on Scrutiny Committees was reduced from 15 to 9
- More focused and succinct scrutiny agenda—with a maximum of two items, in the categories of Pre-decision and high level performance monitoring
- Minutes of committee meetings—minutes to include a preamble, apologies, declarations of interest and decisions or recommendations (the full meetings can be viewed via the recording on the Blaenau Gwent website).

We have also established the recommendation process as part of the scrutiny process. This enables recommendations from Scrutiny to Cabinet / Council to be easily accessed via the relevant committee meeting page.

Topic: Discretionary Cost of Living Scheme

Activity

A report was presented requesting support for funding provided by Welsh Government to enable councils to provide support under a discretionary scheme to help households in need of assistance with their living costs. The Committee were asked to support a payment of £100 to eligible households. As part of the scheme, the committee was also asked to support the Council in making a contribution of £100k to the Blaenau Gwent Foodbank and £50k to Citizens Advice Bureau (CAB).

Outcome

The committee supported the £150 payment to eligible households and also the £50k contribution to CAB; however, the committee recommended an amendment to the Scheme, that £30k be provided to BG Foodbank as the main recipient and a discretionary fund of £20k be established to allow other local food distributing groups / organisations to apply for funding from the council to assist in delivery work within their respective communities.

Legislation

Local Government and Elections (Wales) Act

The Local Government and Elections (Wales) Act 2021 contains a number of provisions to promote diversity, involvement and participation in council democratic arrangements. Some of these provisions include:

- Encouraging local people to participate in decision making
- Development of a Participation Strategy
- The election of a councillor to represent the community
- A review of the council's performance
- Job sharing for members of the Executive

The Council is looking to implement the required areas from the Act and has included this within an implementation plan which in future can be monitored by the Democratic Services Committee as appropriate.

The Act has enabled councils to operate a council meeting whereby Elected Members, Officers and the public and press are given the opportunity to attend meetings physically at the General Offices in HbbW Vale or virtually via Microsoft Teams. Councils may not mandate physical attendance at meetings. Blaenau Gwent Council approved its Multi-Local Meeting Policy in September 2022.
